Death Takes a Holiday Opens Thurs. in Aud.

"Death Takes a Holiday," the third event of the 1963-64 drama production season, is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Thurs. and Fri., April 16 and 17, main stage of the college auditorium.

Adapted by Walter Ferris from an original Italian play by Alberto Casella, the play is a fantasy about a three day trip to earth taken by Death who has decided to learn about human emotions that he has never experienced. Taking the guise of a prince, he begins his adventure at an Italian nobleman's castle where a beautiful, sensitive, and fearless girl, Grazia, is attracted to him. Death falls in love with her and begins to feel human emotions and pain. Soon it is time for Death to end his holiday and Grazia is faced with a choice between life and love.

Shakespearean Program to Be Presented at MSC

As a part of the Festival of Arts Program, the class in Shakespeare, under the direction of Dr. Frank W. Grube, will present a special program, "Shakespeare Birthday Party," Apr. 23 in the Horace Mann auditorium, 8:00 p.m.

The special program, in honor of William Shakespeare's 400th birthday, will present dramatic selections, readings, and musical selections. Two other departments, Music and Women's physical education will assist in the program.

Included in the program will be portions of "Romeo and Juliet," with Mike Knepper, Dorothy Pfeifer, Margaret MacDonald, and Glenda Knott acting; "Hamlet," with James Hurley and Karen Neiman, will also be presented, along with "Tempest," done by Norman Wilcox, James Hurley, Mike Knepper, and Glenda Knott.

"Life of Shakespeare," a reading by Mrs. Janelle Howe and a piano selection, "The King's Hunt," played by Carol Workman, will also be included in the program.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Grube, with James Hurley serving as student director. Assisting with the program are Earle Moss, Miss Sarah Beth Kurtz, Mrs. Donald Sanford, and Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom.

A special invitation has been extended to the public by Dr. Grube. No admission fee will be charged.

Pre-Theological Students Form New Group

The Wesley Foundation has founded a campus organization for all pre-theological students.

Ray Gass, Wesley Foundation director said, "As a campus minister feeling that I and the foundation have a responsibility for the intellectual and spiritual training of pre-theological students, we are seeking to have a fellowship which will help these students study and better understand their calling as ministers of Jesus Christ. Perhaps also through this fellowship we can encourage other students to go into a full time church vocation."

The group has a dinner meeting in the college cafeteria twice a month. At this time, they discuss problems involved in the Christian ministry. Plans to visit the S. Paul's School of Theology Methodist City, Missouri, are being made and the group also meet with various premen.

Ray Gass urges a student interested in a religion to meet with the group April 17, at 12 noon, in the Lakeview Room, 601 Building.

Names of the women elected to the committee were not table at press time. They will be announced by their respective dormitories.

They were elected Tuesday night at dorm floor meetings will represent the men and women of their hall on the committee.

The committee will operate under the Union Board to relay grips of the students to administrators and to make suggestions about solving the problems.

A day-by-day summary of the storm of student action which has swept this campus:

Thursday—After girls' closing hours, dormitory men gathered in the center of the dorm complex, discussed the food situation, marched to the home of Mrs. M. T. Sheldon, college dietician, and voiced their complaints. Dean of Students C. E. Koerble talked to the demonstrators, first on the street near the Sheldon home and then in front of the women's dormitories, about the student union food. A mass meeting was set up for Friday noon in the stadium. The demonstration was at all times orderly. 500 to 700 students were involved.

Friday—Meeting in the stadium, well over 1,000 collegians listened to a panel discussion between student leaders David Herring, Tom Cramer, Ed Reeder, and Tom Carr and administrators Dean Koerble, business manager Luther Belcher, and Mrs. Sheldon. After discussing the quality of the food and the quality of preparation and after a lengthy question and answer session, the group decided to adjourn until Monday night and let the student members of the panel along with representatives of the coeds meet with the administration in the meantime. Administrators pointed out the difficulty of trying to hold an orderly meeting with a great number of people present.

Throughout the weekend the students met with administrators and with themselves.

Monday—At 10 a.m. 13 students met with President J. W. Jones, Student Body President-elect Glenn Acksel, Union Board Chairman Bob Dickey and members of the administration. The President outlined the procedure set up in the Student government for voicing student food complaints to the administration. The Union Board operates in that area and its food committee is set up to handle such communication.

At this time David Herring, acting as spokesman, told the President that the students wanted a more representative food committee. The students present set up a 4 p.m. meeting with administrators to discuss.

Literary Edition

The Spring semester literary issue of the Northwest Missourian will be published May 13. This is open to any student of MSC and will include both poetry and short-short stories.

All poetry should be submitted to Dr. F. W. Grube, Chairman of the Division of Languages and Literature. All prose should be given to Mr. H. H. Morris, advisor to the Northwest Missourian. Deadline for entries is 4 p. m., Friday, May 1.

Maintenance Work Adds Room to Horace Mann

Work last summer brought about a change in the appearance of the Horace Mann building. Beginning with the central offices, the MSC maintenance crew created more space by knocking out walls and putting in closets in more convenient places.

The changes have been effective in making the rooms and halls appear much lighter and more spacious.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Enough Is Enough

A challenge has been placed before the students of MSC. Can they continue to display the drive and determination displayed in rioting in working out concrete solutions to the food problem peacefully?

A committee has been elected to represent the students' complaints about the cafeteria food before the administration. The question is: Will it function? The answer, we believe, has to be yes.

The students must apply the same pressure on the committee that they have applied to the administration. They must literally bury the committee with specific, written complaints and suggestions about the food. They must continuously put their ideas before the committee. They must demand that the committee act or answer for its inaction. But the students must also allow the committee a reasonable time to act.

The process for correcting the situation has been set up. It remains for the student body and the administration to bargain in good faith. Both sides must allow the process of law and order to solve the problem.

We firmly believe that a report presented by the elected committee of students and backed 100% by the student body carries much more weight with the administration than repeated demonstrations and rioting. The answer to a riot is police dogs and tear gas. The answer to written proposals is action.

This is not to say that demonstrations are wrong. They serve to bring the problem before the public. They also serve to show the amount of support behind a protest. But once the problem has been presented and once support has been shown, it remains for elected representatives to negotiate, deliberate, and solve the problem. It is time to stop demonstrating that there is a problem. It is time to begin to solve that problem.

Any further demonstrations of any type at all will only further aggravate the situation. It is the duty of every student to stop and think that these demonstrations are undermining the Northwest Missouri State College and are destroying the years of work in building up respect and goodwill for the college. This is your college. Do not continue to disgrace her name.

We endorse the leadership of the Union Board and of the elected committee. We suggest that recognition be extended only to those students duly elected and that the student body begin to co-operate with the administration in working out a solution.

Any suggestions or complaints should be made to the members of the Food Committee. Any such written suggestions left at the Northwest Missourian office or sent to the Northwest Missourian through campus mail will be immediately forwarded to the committee chairman.

Mrs. Imes Talks To Republicans

New officers were elected to Young Republicans on March 25. The new officers are: Chairman, Bob Freeman; Vice-Chairman, Byron Fink; Treasurer, Ed Schroeder and Secretary, Donna Davis. Kay Collet was appointed as Publicity Chairman.

Four Presidential Committees were organized. The purpose of these committees is to promote the individual candidate and to exhibit the candidate's position on the various issues facing America today. The chairman of each committee is: Randy Barlow—the Lodge Committee; Donna Davis—the Scranton Committee; Byron Fink—the Nixon Committee; Ed Schroeder—the Goldwater Committee.

On April 1, Mrs. Johnnie Imes, former Vice Chairman of State Young Republicans and member of the State Committee, gave a most informative talk to the group on "Practical Politics."

In considering our present political thought, Mrs. Imes said, "Our government is based on liberty. The men who formed our government did not think they were bestowing liberty on the people, rather they felt that liberty was a natural right and that the function of government was to protect liberty and not to manipulate it. Now we have adopted a set of political ideas which reject this principle and philosophy."

 side on the formation of the committee.

Union Board Chairman Dickey presided at the afternoon meeting. He described the procedure outlined by President Jones and proposed that the committee be composed of 15 men and 15 women representing their respective dorms, elected according to the procedure set up by the dorm councils. The chairman would be appointed by the Union Board, and all members would have to have a 2.0 grade average and could not be on probation. Cramer stated that accepting a committee was second best and went on to state the objective of the student action: "To give impetus to the administration to improve the quality of preparation of food for students served in the cafeteria." Other students cited the inability of past committees to effect changes. Mr. Belcher stated that the committee should draw up a menu satisfactory to the students and recommend the equipment necessary to produce that menu. The administration would then act on the recommendations. He said that nothing would be pigeonholed; either the administration would act on the suggestion or the students would be told why.

John Siehl moved that the committee be set up as described by chairman Dickey. The motion was seconded and carried without a dissenting vote.

Monday evening students filled one side of the Lamkin Gym bleachers, waiting to hear from their representatives. Cramer explained that the administration would not meet the students in mass and that they would deal only with elected representatives of the students. He reiterated his view that a committee was second best and that authority rested with the group as a whole. Dickey, despite frequent interruptions, explained the structure and functions of the committee. Throughout the meeting, members of the audience continued to comment and raise questions.

Missourian Co-Editor Bob Johnson stated that the Missourian backed the efforts of the students to get better food and that it would support the committee's actions. At the close of the meeting, the students present accepted, by a large majority, the formation of the 30-member committee and the dorm election process.

Later Monday evening, men students marched from the campus to Main Street and on south to the sale barn. The demonstrators blocked traffic on US 71 until law enforcement officers broke up the mob with tear gas. The students regrouped, marched back downtown, and, after obtaining the release on an arrested student, went back to the campus.

The men regrouped in front of Hudson Hall. One of the main glass doors was broken and the men streamed into the hall on a pantie raid. In the process they injured the housemother, Mrs. Dorothy Hildebrand, and four coeds in the dorm. They also tore a telephone off the wall and did more than minor damage to the dorm. Police arrived on the scene to maintain order. The rioters soon returned to their dormitories.

Tuesday — President Jones asked the students and faculty to meet with him at Lamkin Gym where he explained his and the college's position. He stated that state law gave the Board of Regents authority to establish rules for student conduct and that students who attend this college must comply with those rules. The President described the provisions of the Student Government Association for handling student food complaints and said that any action must be taken through the due process of the committees set up by the Union Board.

President Jones stressed that law and order must be maintained and that students violating the rules of the college do so at their own risk. He asked the student body and faculty to join with him in creating a better image of the college in the public's eyes.

Tuesday evening, a coeducational group of students began forming on campus. When a parking lot dance failed to materialize, they began to mill around. As they attempted to move toward town on 7th St., the students were repulsed by tear gas, fire hoses, police dogs, and night sticks. Policemen, patrolmen, sheriffs and deputies sealed off the campus and moved through the central areas with dogs and night sticks, breaking up groups of students and herding them back to the men's dorms.

The no-nonsense policy resulted in the arrest of four men students for disturbing the peace. They were released after posting $25 bond. After the students quieted down and returned to their dorms, the police relaxed their control.

MSC Fraternity To Help Direct '64 Cancer Drive

The Maryville Cancer Drive, under the direction of the Phi Lambda Chi social fraternity and John Mauzey, Maryville jeweler, will get under way the week of Apr. 20 and will run to the end of the month.

Travis Booth, president of the MSC fraternity, is heading the group's efforts. Don Lentz, Phi Lambda member, is the coordinator of the college and residential drives.

Mauzey is the director of the businessmen's crusade.

Phi Lambda Chi, whose house is at 107 Lawn Ave., has been serving the community in various ways. In addition to the Cancer Drive, the fraternity brothers united to encourage the Maryville Red Cross Drive. The group will supervise the crusade north of Third Street and east of Main Street. Other leaders will conduct the drive in other wards.

MSC GRADUATE RETURNS TO COLLEGE FOR LECTURE

Dr. Walter C. Brown, Phoenix, Ariz., a former Maryville resident, returned to Maryville recently to lecture to students in the Northwest State College industrial arts department.

Brown, a 1935 graduate of Maryville High School, and a 1939 MSC graduate, is presently serving as Director of Industrial Arts, Technical and Vocational Education in the Phoenix, Ariz., schools. He is the author of a drafting textbook and editor of a series of industrial education books. Also, he is a member of the educational advisory board of several national organizations, including Epsilon Pi Tau and Phi Delta Kappa.

During the 1930's, he was a Daily Forum carrier. Following graduation from MSC with an industrial arts major, Brown taught in St. Joseph, Hannibal and Kansas City. He then enrolled in the University of Missouri, where he received his masters and doctor's degree, and a position as an associate professor of Industrial Education.

Dr. and Mrs. Brown returned from Washington, D. C., where he presided as the newly elected president of the American Industrial Arts Assn.

The Browns were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald N. Valk, Maryville.

MSC CO-EDS HONORED

Miss Georgia Kay Linville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Linville, Graham, has been named as recipient of the Missouri Home Economics Ass'n. Scholarship Award for 1964-65.

This $300 award is made annually by the association. Miss Linville is a graduate of Graham High School and is now a junior at MSC, where she is majoring in home economics.

Miss Linville and a senior from Missouri University are the winners this year. Miss Linville is a member of Kappa Omicron Phi national professional fraternity.

Miss Glendena Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen K. Taylor, Ridgeway, has received a research fellowship in textiles and clothing from Kansas State University.

Miss Taylor will enter graduate school upon graduation from Northwest Missouri State College in August of next year. She is a member of Kappa Omicron Phi professional fraternity and Kappa Delta Phi honorary education fraternity.

She is a graduate of Ridgeway High School.

All-Greek Newsletter At Cape Girardeau

(The following article is reprinted from the Capha Arrow, student newspaper of Southeast Missouri State College.)

Representatives from all the fraternities and sororities met Tuesday evening to plan an all-Greek newsletter to be circulated in the new group housing area.

The paper will be published every other week and contains news pertinent to the Greek groups on campus. The paper will be mimeographed.

Members of the staff will work as reporters and editors of specialized columns, such as a sports column and a column for pinnings and lavalieres. The paper does not intend to interfere with the Arrow. Much of the material covered by the newsletter will be similar to that of a gossip column.

Miss Judy Hapes, an MSC freshman coed, was selected Miss Navy Wings of Gold to represent the men and officers of the Olathe Naval Air Station.

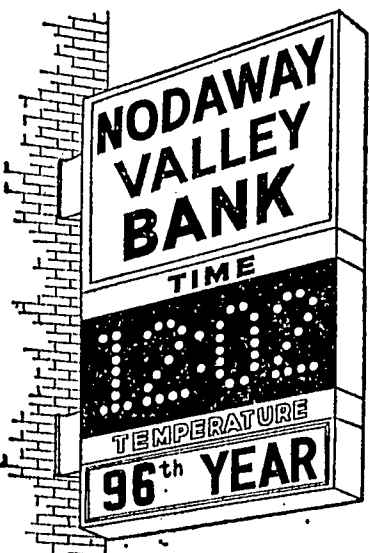

Miss Hapes, from Kansas City, was awarded the wings of a Navy aviator at a special ceremony at the air base by Lt. Com. C. B. Alber. After the ceremony she met the base commander, toured the base, and inspected the facilities and personnel.

A business administration major, Miss Hapes was selected on the basis of personality, poise, charm, and beauty by the Naval Information team which visits the campus once a semester. She is the first coed in the midwest to be so honored. Galen Buckey, Naval Air recruiter at MSC, accompanied Miss Hapes on her trip to the Air Station.

The personnel at Olathe includes six men from MSC and the Maryville area who are reserve members of the squadrons stationed at the base.

Bearcat Teams Continue To Win In Spring Sports

MSC Nine Wins Pair At Omaha

Northwest State extended its baseball record to 5-0 for the early season Saturday, sweeping a double-header from Creighton University, 11-3 and 7-3 at Omaha.

Steve Croley picked up the first-game victory, while Benny Cain allowed just two Creighton hits in going the distance in the second.

Jerry Albin was one of Maryville's big hitters, going five for seven in the two games, one of his hits a triple.

Gary Shaw tagged a three-run homer for the Bearcats in the opening game. Lonnie Irwin was another big Missouri hitter with four for seven in the two games.

Power Attack Sinks Tarkio

MSC's Bearcat baseball team swept both ends of a double-header with Tarkio last week, boosting their record to 3-0.

The twin-bill was highlighted by a combined no-hitter by Maryville's Larry Messerli and Don Schneider in the second game. In the first game, Tarkio managed eight hits while MSC rapped 26 hits in both games. Steve Croley picked up the win in the first game.

The 'Cats' power showed up early in the first game as Dr. Burton Richey's charges scored five first-inning runs. Lonnie Irvin, Bernie Ricono, and Gary Shaw hit round-trippers for Maryville, and Irvin had four runs-batted-in.

In the second game, Jim Jackson and Croley hit homers to lead an array of Bearcat extra-base hits. The game was not entirely bright for the Bearcats, however, as Randy Wolcott, regular firstbaseman, broke his left arm in a collision at first base. He is expected to be out for the season.

Bearcat Tennis Team Extends Wins to Five

Northwest State College won its fourth straight tennis match of the season Saturday, turning back William Jewell, 7-2.

While Maryville dropped one doubles test to Bud Brower and Rick Clark, Jewell's top twosome, the Bearcats' Neil Reynolds and Wayne Mains, No. 2 team, remained undefeated. Reynolds and Mains beat Carlene Basore and Terry Pratt, 6-3, 6-4. Brower and Clark toppled Bob Schaag and Bruce Horrell, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

In singles, Jewell's female star, Miss Basore, was beaten by Schaag, 6-1, 7-5, for her first loss of the season.

Reynolds downed Clark, the Cardinals' No. 1 singles player, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

College Tennis Team Extends Perfect Record

The Northwest State College tennis team remained undefeated as they defeated Parsons College 6-1 in a contest played at Parkville Monday.

Neil Reynolds lost the number one singles 2-6, 3-6 to Bob Scholle for Parson's only point. Maryville winners were Bruce Horrell over Roger Brown, 6-2, 6-2; Bob Schagg over George Green, 6-0, 6-0; Stan DeCosmo over Hal Henderson, 6-4, 6-0; and Wayne Mains over Allen Woods, 6-2, 6-0.

Maryville swept the doubles as Schaag and Horrell defeated Brown and Green 6-4, 6-2, and Reynolds and Mains downed Scholle and Hendersch, 6-1, 6-2.

The Bearcats host St. Joseph Junior College Thursday and travel to Warrensburg Friday for a meet.

Netwits Win Intramural Slate

The recently completed women's intramural basketball tournament produced an appropriately named winning team, the "Netwits." The team, composed of coeds from Southwest Iowa was undefeated in the double elimination tournament in which ten teams participated.

For the victorious "Netwits," Joan Mann, Jo Mohr, and Donna McClain scored consistently to boost their game-point average to thirty-eight points per game. Phyllis Brown, Susan Darrah, and Kathy Smith kept the opposition's scores down by proving competent on the defensive. Basketball chairman, Barbara Chick, reported that approximately 85 girls participated in actual play.

According to Kathy Bogdas, Women's Intramural Director, plans are underway to revive a badminton tournament discontinued some years ago. Dr. Kathryn Riddle is faculty sponsor of the program.

HAROLD CHOATE, former Peru State starting fullback, is attending MSC this semester. The 6-1, 195-pound back, attended Butler University his freshman year. Choate figures in Coach Ivan Schottel's grid plans next season because of his top ratings at Peru and Butler as a fullback and linebacker.
